Firearm Safety is a Public Health Issue

Every day, 91 Americans are killed by guns

- Approximately 33,000 per year
- Car accidents cause similar numbers of deaths each year

If all gun deaths are grouped together, they would be ranked 13th for causes of death nationally

Firearm Safety is a Public Health Issue

Child Protection: Every day, 7 children or teens are killed with guns

Domestic Violence: Every month, 51 women are shot to death by intimate partners

Mental Health: More than 60% of deaths by firearm are suicides

Racial Justice: Guns are the leading cause of death for black males ages 15-34

Why Talk to Patients About Responsible Gun Ownership?

Physicians routinely inquire and counsel patients about health-related behaviors, conditions, and risks

Physicians have opportunity to educate patients about:

- safe storage
- household risk factors
- how to mitigate risk

This education is particularly important where increased risk factors apply

Barriers to Discussing Guns with Patients

Reasons why doctors choose not to discuss firearm safety with patients:

- Time constraints
- Concerns about confrontation
- Belief that it is unlawful to inquire
- Lack of training/information about guns and gun safety

Legal Framework: Licenses

A person must be licensed to have a gun. Licenses can be either:

- A firearms ID card (FID) or
- A license to carry (LTC)

Licenses are issued and renewed by the local police department

Licenses are valid for 6 years

Safety course required

Legal Framework: Licenses

Licenses are denied, suspended, or revoked if one of the following applies:

- Felony, violent crime, and drug or gun conviction
- Domestic abuse or protection order
- Commitment by a court for mental illness, alcohol, or substance abuse
- Unlawful use of or addiction to a controlled substance
- Appointment of a guardian or conservator because of decreased mental capacity

Licenses may also be denied, suspended, or revoked if the applicant is deemed “unsuitable.”

What You Can Tell Your Patients

What the law says regarding safe storage:

A stored firearm must be:

“secured in a locked container or equipped with a tamper-resistant mechanical lock or other safety device, properly engaged so as to render such weapon inoperable by any person other than the owner or other lawfully authorized user.” G.L. c. 140, § 131L(a).

Additional penalties apply when a firearm is kept somewhere a minor can access it. G.L. c. 140, § 131L(c) and (d).

How to Engage

When approaching conversations with patients about guns:

- Remember that most gun owners are knowledgeable about and deeply committed to gun safety.
- Focus on health
- Provide context for questions
- Avoid accusatory questions
- Start with open-ended questions
- Avoid being overly prescriptive

How to Engage

But how does this all apply in specific situations?
