

Seven Tips to Maximize Your MMS Resident or Fellow Membership

1

Follow the MMS on your favorite social media channels: Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, and YouTube.

2

Participate in the Resident/Fellow Section and help determine advocacy priorities, activities, and programs, or represent the MMS at the American Medical Association.

3

Grow your leadership skills by serving on one of the many MMS committees, including the Board of Trustees, or enrolling in our mentoring program.

4

Register for one of our signature CME events or online programs to learn from experts and maintain your certification.

5

Testify at the MMS House of Delegates sessions, shape the Society's legislative agenda, and advance evidence-based medicine.

6

Build your network by attending MMS-sponsored networking events, District Medical Society activities, and other educational programs.

7

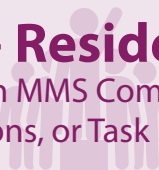

Sign in to your NEJM account to access landmark research and clinical insights and participate in discussions on NEJM Resident 360 to help prepare for your clinical rotations.
